MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Money on call, 134@2 per cent.; last loan, 134 per cent.; ruling price, 2 per cent. Time money quoted at 33/24 per cent. for sixty days to three months, and 4@41/4 per cent. for four to six months. Commercial paper is quoted at 5@51/4 per cent. for prime single names and bills receivable; other names at 6@61/4 per cent.

The foreign exchange market opened firm, and in the early dealings there was a noticeably better demand for exchange, with but few bills offering. Later in the day, however, the inquiry for remittance fell off and business became dull. There was a net advance for the day in sight sterling of about 10 points. Posted rates were quoted at 34.83% for long and $4.86% for short. Actual rates: Long bills, $4.82% $4.83; sight drafts, $4.8565634.8575, and cable transfers, $4.859. Francs were quoted at 5.20% for long and 5.18% less 1-16 for short. Reichsmarks were quoted at 94% for long and 94.13-16 for short. Guilders were quoted at 40 for long and 40.3-16 for short.

John T. Hunt (Zindars & Hunt), electrical contractor and manufacturer at 127 Fifth avenue and 52 and 54 Grove street, made an assignment yesterday to Edward B. Tompkins. Shaffer & Eisler, attorneys for the assignee, said that the causes of the assignment were the long strike in the building trade, last summer and fall and the recent stringency in the money market. The trade estimates the liabilities at $25,000.

A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against William H. Ebling, Jr., a builder in this city, who failed in 1900. Louis Korn has sued him for commissions as an architect. Judge Holk has stayed this suit.

Herman C. Hilmers, a broker of 35 Broadway, who was a partner in the firm of Field, Lindley, Weichers & Co., filed a petition in bankruptcy yesterday to get rid of liabilities incurred as a partner in that firm, which failed in 1891. His total liabilities are $3,102,830 and he has no assets.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

THURSDAY, Feb. 4. There was very little change to-day in the conditions that have ruled in the security market for a fortnight. The market continues to display an almost complete apathy as regards undertakings either for investment or speculation on the part of the outside public; and while this is the case, the short interest in the market having been greatly reduced by the 12 point rise in quotations that has occurred in the last four months, the natural tendency of prices is to sag. One of the most prominent features of the market is, and has been while the present movement has been in progress, the absence of an aggressive attack on values by speculators for the fall. The declines that have taken place have been caused to a much greater degree than ordinarily happens to genuine liquidation. There have been sales for the short account in plenty, of course; but there has at no time been any determined or formida-ble "bear raid." The market has been left wholly to itself and to the influences that day by day have developed These influences to-day were not many and were of varied character. The Russo-Japanese difficulty has now undoubtedly reached a point of extreme tension, and the situation in the Far East looks black. The chief incident of the day's news in this particular, the departure of the Russian fleet from Port Arthur, was certaintly not in itself a warlike move. But the danger is at present of an outbreak of hostilities caused by some act of perhaps unintentional belligerency by either one of the opposing parties. The Secretary of the Treasury issued his notification to the national banks to prepare for a call for 20 per cent. of the Govern ment deposits held by them, and this call, when it is issued, will be followed by a second call for an additional 10 per cent. of the public moneys not in the actual possession of the Treasury. The method of accomplishing the Panama Canal payments is still discussed only academically in Wall Street, and it is recognized now that the effect of the transaction upon the money market will be wholly determined by the amount of foreign exchange bills that can be made available for purchase.

most of the day there was really the greatest interest, prices there taking a great tumble. Quotations for the various options on the Cotton Exchange fluctuated feverishly until just before the close of the market, when, upon receipt of unfavorable war news, they fell to a level one cent a pound below the final figures of yesterday For the same reason grain prices rose very sharply. Railroad earnings for the fourth week of January made showings of decreases rather generally. The St. Paul December net, however, increased $214.-141, while the Southern Pacific December statement exhibited a gross increase of $643,486, practically all of which was saved in net. The character of the last named statement had been widely anticipated and its effect upon the price of Southern Pacific stock to-day was decidedly lessened by the grave conditions as regards drought that now prevail in lower California and in the adjacent portion of the Southern Pacific territory. Only 9-16 of an inch of rain has fallen in this territory for nearly a year, and as the rainy season in the region ends on April 1 only a limited time yel remains in which the deficiency of needed moisture can be made up. As it is, the results of the drought have already assumed the proportions of a disaster. The matter, of course, is one in which other railroad interests besides those of the Southern Pacific company are concerned. The heavy selling of Pennsylvania stock kept up throughout the day, although, as has previously been the case, it very skilfully conducted, so as not to weaken the price of the stock exceedingly. The reason for this selling appears to be the well defined impression in the financia community that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is again about to ask accommodation from the money market. Ar official denial was made in Philadelphia to-day that the company intended to issue any more of its bonds or stock. This denial may be accepted as technically correct as it is believed that the plans of the Pennsylvania company for raising the money required have been arranged so as to avoid an issue of securities. Obligations of some kind, however, the company must necessarily enter into, and these at some time must-assume permanent form. Criticism upon the United States Realty Company's plan of capital reorganization was for the most part adverse and served to depress the price of the Realty preferred shares. The United States Steel stocks were the strongest on the list, perhaps because of somewhat more hopeful views as to the iron and steel situation voiced by a leading trade journal. The Bank of England's return to-day was not considered as wholly favorable, but the more unpleasant outlook of the Eastern political situation was no doubt chiefly responsible for the weakness of the London market. Our own local banks have lost to the Sub-Treasury so far during the week $3,549,000, as against a gain of nearly that sum last week, so that it seems unlikely that Saturday's bank statement will show any notable gain in the receipts of cash.

The tone of the outside market to-day was dull and heavy throughout the a session.

The volume of trading fell off to almost nothing, and even in the securities most actively dealt in transactions were few and far be-tween. The lack of interest in the market was such that in most instances price changes were merely fractional, declines, however, predominating. The most conspicuous fall in quoted values occurred in Standard Oil. ten shares of which sold at 650, or 12% points below the last previous sale. In Northern Securities and Greene Consolidated Copper, the stocks usually most prominent in the trading, very little was done to-day. The net changes were a loss of % of a point for the former and a gain of the same fraction for the latter. The Greene Consolidated Copper "rights" were more active, but remained practically unchanged in price. The Brooklyn Union Gas rights in price. The Brooklyn Union Gas rights were considerably dealt in. They declined ½ of a point for the day, closing at 14. The Seaboard Air Line issues were dull and little changed. In the bond department $4,000 Cuban Government 68 were sold at 107½, which is 2½ points below their last recorded sale, and $20,000 New Orleans Railway 4½s changed hands at 80½ and 80½, representing a fractional loss in quoted value.

The transactions in the market to-day were as follows:

War rumors had more than anything elae to do with the advance in wheat. The Far Eastern news was regarded as so threatening that it brought about a seare of the shorts, and their covering and aggressive buying by leading bulls here and at the West caused a noteworthy advance in prices: The sharp break in the cotton markets and the heaviness of the securities markets gave color to the war talk. The foreign grain markets and the heaviness of the securities markets gave color to the war talk. The foreign grain markets did not advance very much, but this fact counted for nothing. The bears were frightened and about the only selling was to seccure profits. Parls rose 10 to 15 centimes and the English markets ¼ to ½d. Foreign houses both bought and sold here, but were sellers on balance, though the foreign trading on the whole did not amount to much.

Rain was reported in parts of Argentina, but rain now can do little or no damage. Some of the crop reports from the Southwest were bullish. The primary receipts were 50,000 bush, against 441,000 last year, and the shipments 485,000. The seaboard received 121,000 bush, and cleared 280,000. Minneapolls advices stated that the mills were resuming. Broomhall estimates the Argentina shipments at 1,600,000 bush. Corn was higher with wheat. Armour brokers were buying, though they also sold, and shorts covered. Chicago received 240 cars; none contract. Primary receipts were 576,000 bush, against 601,000. The seaboard received 250,000 bush, and cleared 361,000. The cables were 3d. 40 3d. higher. Oats were more active and prices advanced with corn and wheat. Chicago received 70 cars, including 3 of contract grade.

FLOUE.—Quiet, but stronger with wheat. Sales, 9,000 bbis. Receipts, 7,673 bbis. and 14,022 sacks: exports, 4,802 sacks. Winter in bbis. Superfine, 83. No. 2 extra. $3.25@$3.50; clears, $3.65@$4; straights, $4.20@$4.65; here for the first of the same prices of the superior of contracts, Futures here declined 59 to 60 points, recovered about 35 to 45 of the loss, then weakened and fell 116 to 140 points below the closing figures of Wednesday, railled slightly and closed weak at a net decline for the day of 103 to 134 points, with estimated sales of 800,000 bales. been a noticeable decrease in the stocks at interior points, although the decrease, it must be confessed, is not so rapid as it has been at this time in recent years.

But as the afternoon wore on the signs of New Orleans liquidation—a drop of 180 points in July there—became too plain to be ignored. Beyond question, it was due to the gathering war cloud in the Far East and the fear that in so inflammable a market a declaration of war, or even the merest spark, would produce a serious effect. Large long interests here, too, which had no chance to liquidate in such weak markets as we have had lately, and which were merely awaiting the first opportunity to get out, sold heavily on the early raily, and continued to sell on the way down. What is more, it is far frum clear that the big long interest has even yet faily liquidated, and this is regarded by close students of the situation as one of its least encouraging features.

Sully & Co. were executing liberal commission orders to buy May and July and were advising their customers to buy. Atwood Violett & Co. were good sellers of May and July and the room tried to trace this to W. P. Brown or Frank Hayne, but, so it is said, without success. Norden & Co. sold freely in Liverpool. McFadden Bros. bought May there against sales of July here on a straddie, but they also bought July here on a straddie, but they also bought July here on the reactions. Most of the New Orleans houses were buying.

D. J. Sully & Co. said: "The exhaustion of supplies in the South has gone on without cessation. At times receipts have been somewhat heavy, but they have made a poor showing as against shipments, nad the daily reports of the crop movements have shown a continual dwinding of stocks. No matter what influence certain sentimental factors may have in depressing the price of futures, none of them will operate to curtail consumption or produce one more bale of cotton, and after all these two features are the only ones worth regarding.

S. M. Weld & Co. sold May, July, and August. Daniel

cotton is practically out of the small interior towns, and in a few weeks there will be no cotton left to come into sight. The bull market will again be resumed at that time, if not sooner. In our opinion, there is little long interest in the market to liquidate, except that which is held by strong professioal nterests, who are in the market to stay."

Some had a fear that Messrs. Brown, Hayne and Maiors of New Orleans were liquidating. There was a nervous feeling last night and tomorrow's market is awaited with unusual interest. McIntyre & Marshail said: "The ginners' report, which will be issued near Tuesday, is expected to be convincing in a great degree as to the possible ultimate yield from the growing crop, and the market is in shape to take on strength should its announcement be extreme in indicating a yield under previous Government suggestions. In a general way, as before stated, the market would appear to be safe for operations based on 15 to 15½ cent spot cotton in the South. There is nothing in the situation at this time to warrant is remaining long at or below these figures."

The coffee market again broke wide open under an avalanche of selling orders from all over the country, for both the long and the short accounts. Stop loss orders contributed to the weakness. European markets were lower and foreign houses sold. Sully & Co. bought the distant months, but there was no decided effort to check the downward tendency. The short interest has been largely increased within a day or two and in the opinion of not a few the market is entitled to a rally. But the pressure to liquidate continues. One firm sald: "The liquidation has been on a tremendous scale. It looks as though it is not yet over, and some further decline may be witnessed. It is a drastle movement, but the market in the end will be all the healthler for it, and place it in a position to respond to the legitimate influences after the liquidation has run its course."
